

MISSION PARTNER PROFILE

Saing Chhinho
Cambodia

Saing Chhinho is the founding director of Shalom Mission Cambodia (SMC), and in this capacity he oversees 32 home churches planted by SMC in nine provinces throughout Cambodia. His vision is to plant a church in every province in Cambodia, and develop true disciples of Jesus Christ who will transform their communities holistically.

It was partly Chhinho's personal conviction that led to the formation of SMC in September 2002, as a group of seven neighbours started meeting and worshipping together as a community.

From these humble beginnings in Phnom Penh, SMC grew into a formal evangelistic organisation that plants churches and operates development projects in other provinces of Cambodia. Chhinho and his fellow founders and lay workers saw how God enabled them to undertake activities that have increased the capacity and capability of SMC to pursue its mission and goals.

Chhinho saw Cambodia as a great harvest field of people who are seeking true and everlasting peace in their life, soul and spirit. He saw himself as a servant of God in the service of his Lord and Saviour Jesus Christ, to bring the love of God to the "lost" and the "broken".

In the early stage of the organisation of SMC, Chhinho was blessed with fellow Christians who share his perspective of the mission field. To them, the role of a church in the mission field is not only to preach and teach the gospel but also to actively participate in activities that reflect God's care for His people.

Prior to the setting up of SMC, Chhinho was moving around with different roles in World Vision work as Staff Capacity Building Coordinator, Christian Witness Initiative Project Manager and Christian Commitment Programme Manager for almost seven years.

Currently, he is also an advisor to Good Neighbour International/Cambodia on Holistic and Leadership Development.
