

MISSION PARTNER PROFILE

LJC
Pakistan

LJC is working as the coordinator of a major education project in Pakistan. She is a Co-Mission Partner of AsiaCMS, sent in partnership with a diocese to work on the education initiative.

The education project, which is part of the education initiatives of the diocese, aims to provide sustainable quality education to the poorest children in the rural areas of Pakistan. The education project was begun in 2002 and now has 85 schools in four districts.

The education project aims to empower the communities of these areas through building schools, upgrading the quality of education, and creating a network of future leaders through wide-ranging training programmes, without any discrimination of caste or creed.

LJC is actively involved in church work, helping out in Sunday school and women fellowship ministries, besides serving as a Diocesan Secretary since 2013. She has completed her Masters in Education and is presently pursuing M. Phil in Education. With the support of CMS UK, LJC obtained her Diploma in Christian Education in 2001 from Birmingham University. Her time at Crowther Hall has contributed immensely to the development of her skills and confidence.

LJC is a teacher trainer and is involved in a number of other training programmes. She envisions adapting some of the training materials from these programmes for young adults and is keen to work with the females of rural areas to empower them to realise their basic rights through capacity-building programmes.
